generous response from Proposition to Employ "Commercial Secretary" Discussed.

Royal Teplitz, Doulton, Royal Bonn, Flemish, Beport by Executive Committee in Favor of a System of Credit

Currency

The Board of Trade threshed out a proposition that it should employ a commercial secretary and conduct a bureau of promotion for the business interests of this city at a meeting last evening in the banquet hall on the top floor of the New Willard. The board finally referred the report back report in the near future. While nothing was done in respect to the proposition that had been agitated with much vigor among the members, the discussion tended to bring out various views of the field of usefulness in which the board is working, and to indicate the course it is likely to pursue in encouraging the commercial growth of

A second subject that occupied considerable time of the board related to the adoption of a favorable recommendation to Congress for the passage of Senate bill 6908, for the regulation of the sale of milk and cream in the District of Columbia. An effort in behalf of the dairymen of Virginla was made to eliminate the provision of the bill for the keeping of milk at a temperature of not more than 60 degrees, but the board voted a motion to that effect down. The discussion of the milk bill developed the fact that the milk in use in the District of Columbia is very far from being what it should be.

The board was so occupied with the re-ports of the committees on commerce and manufactures and the committee on public health that there was no time in which to consider other reports of committees that were scheduled for discussion and ac-

Opportunity to Speak.

The meeting was called to order by Gen. John M. Wilson, president. Gen. George H. Harries, secretary, and Mr. William M. Shuster, assistant secretary, were present. In opening the meeting Gen. Wilson stated that he desired that every one should know that the utmost opportunity will at all speak on any subject which they feel should be brought to the attention of the board. If they would bring such matters to his attention in sufficient time Defore meetings he said he would see that proper was made to insure all publicity ossible in such cases.

The executive committee of the board made a report in favor of a system of The board approved a recommendation of Judge Wm. H. DeLacy that the headquarters of the international invenile court he ters of the international juvenile court be located in this city instead of in Chicago, as proposed by residents of that city. Report on Public Health. From the committee on public health, Dr. D. Percy Hickling, chairman, made a report, which was adopted, on conditions in city is in a much better condition, from a sanitary point of view, than many other cities of its size in the United States. "For years," the report stated, "the Com-missioners of the District of Columbia, the Board of Trade, the health officer, the local Medical Society, the Associated Charities and the various citizens' associations have been actively engaged in efforts to remove from our midst any cause or condition which in any way might be a menace to the public health, and as a result wise sanitary laws have been enacted which sup-press nuisances, demolish insanitary buildings, report, isolate and disinfect in of contagious diseases, provide for the in-spection of food, regulating the sale of milk, drugs and poisons, and which provide for sanitary principles in the building and plumbing regulations, a filtration plant for the purification of the city's water supply, and the completion of the city sewerage system, so that visitors and residents may be assured that they will be protected from those insanitary conditions which are detrimental to happiness and health, which so often exist in other cities. "The deaths from typhoid fever," it is stated, "were 142 during the past year, being 3 more than the previous year, and 1,007 cases of typhoid fever were reported to the health department, 797 of which were white and 300 colored."

Erroneous Impression.

In the report it was stated that an errone ous impression had been spread abroad about the unhealthfulness of this city, but by comparison with other cities of the country it could be shown that conditions here are not worse than elsewhere. According to a table prepared by the census bureau of cities of more than 25,000, this city stands fifteenth among cities of its size, and eliminating the white population it is eighteenth in the list of cities in respect to the amount of typhoid. Since com-piling that report, laws have been enacted which undoubtedly will improve the health

A special subcommittee of the committee of public health had visited the filtration plant, and in consequence believes that the results secured by that plant are satis-

"During the past year," it was added, "the law providing for the destruction of insanitary buildings, the pure food law and the police regulations governing the sanitary management of barber shops, the cov-ering of candy and other food exposed for sale and as to the protection of manure pits, the appropriation of $100,000 for the erection of a tuberculosis hospital and the tory for the cremation of persons dving in charitable institutions from contagious dis-eases, are all measures which will improve the health conditions of Washington."

Sale of Milk and Cream.

Dr. Hickling then called to the attention of the board a report upon Senate bill No. 6908, for the regulation of the sale of milk and cream in the District of Columbia. The committee felt that the bill covers too much in regulating the sale of cheese and butter and of condensed milk sold in sealed packages. It thought the bill should be confined to milk, cream, ice cream, butter Mr. Robert N. Harper objected to the provision of the bill which provides for the keeping of the milk at a temperature of not less than 60 degrees. That, he said, would be impracticale for the farmers of Mr. Wm. H. Saunders asked a question of Dr. Hickling which brought out the fact that in this locality the temperature

Removal of Ashes.

The report was then laid aside until the report of the committee on commerce and manufactures should be disposed of. The board of directors made a report favoring the removal of ashes from business houses apartment houses and hotels in the same manner as they are removed from private residences. Upon motion of Mr. Woodward the report was adopted. Mr. B. H. Warner, chairman of the committee on commerce and manufactures, made a report from that committee. The printed report of the committee referred to what had previously been done by the board in the way of action encouraging manufacturing interests in the District and explained that the subcommittee appointed to take the matter under consideration had held many meetings, the main work accomplished being the sending out of 35,-000 inserts calling attention to the advant-ages of this city as a manufacturing cenages of this city as a manufacturing center. The subcommittee had also prepared a booklet called the "comprehensive plan," adopted by the board, and it is now receiving bids for the printing of that book. There is, it was added, a decidedly greater interest in advancing the manufacturing interests of the District than ever before. He spoke of efforts of other organizations to act with the board in advancing such interests and of the special train chartered by The Star to carry products of this city through Virginia and North Carolina.

Influence of Star's Special.

"The influence of that enterprise," he de clared, "has extended far beyond the actual volume of business secured by it for the reason that it advertised widely the fact born at the national capital, and made known that she will no longer be mainly occupied with propositions, social and po-litical only, but in a spirit of commercial activity and enterprise she now extends a welcome to all."

Continuing, the committee said: Your committee, from its investigations, has reached the conclusion that, to successfully carry on the campaign to insure the location in this city not only of manufacturing establishments, but of wholesale jobbing houses, which will result in the employment of those of our own people who are now without occupation, as well as to attract favorable attention from a large number of others who will be a valuable addition to our community, it will be neces-sary to place this special work in charge of a secretary, in nowise connected with our present administrative force, who shall be charged with carrying out, under .. e direc-tion of this committee, the plans set forth in the report adopted by the Board of that the permanent subcommittee be au-thorized to employ such an official.

Need of Commercial Secretary.

"We suggest that he should be known a the commercial secretary. He should possess special qualifications for the positionshould be an expert advertiser, a man of standing and prominence, of perseverance, energy and of a high order of ability-calculated to impress all with whom he comes in contact with the importance of the subject ne presents.
"Such a man can command a salary of $5,000 per annum. He should have, in addition to this, for clerk hire, traveling and office expenses a sum sufficiently large to insure the proper performance of his duties. "The members of this committee have conferred with representatives of other cities, who have been engaged in promotperity of their various communities, and find that in every instance the establish-ment and increase of manufactories have been largely due to such a man as the 'commercial secretary' we have outlined

No Appointment Made.

"As will be seen by our report, which was adopted by the board, the permanent subcommittee was authorized to employ a secretary with the proviso, however, that neither the subcommittee nor this committee should incur any indebtedness, except son that it is well known that the present revenues of the board are scarcely sufficient to meet the ordinary and current de-mands upon them, and it will be essential for the organization to provide in some way for the expenses necessarily incident to the further work of your committee. Unless this is done the committee will be unable the District. The report set forth that this city is in a much better condition, from a committed to its charge by the board.

"With a competent secretary with sufficient means at his command to be expended under the subcommittee's super-vision and direction we firmly believe that the results so much desired by the people of the District of Columbia can be accomplished.

"We await, therefore, the action of the board on this report, continuing, however in the meantime the work of getting out the booklet, which we hope to be able to publish and distribute by the aid of advertisements which the board at its last meeting author ized the committee to solicit.

Payment of Salary.

After submitting the report Mr. Warner remarked: "In regard to the payment of the salary of this commercial secretary the committee recommends that the money be provided by private subscription by those most greatly interested in the undertaking. We do not suggest that it be provided by an increase of dues, but by voluntary subscription of all who are sufficiently interested in having manufactures here."
Mr. Warner said the committee has not now any assistance in replying to letters asking about the favorable conditions for ocating manufacturing plants here, If sub scriptions to pay such a secretary could be secured, he said, the secretary would be employed if the board gave the necessary

Views of Mr. Britton.

"If the chairman properly states the views of the committee in saying the salary would be paid by voluntary subscriptions," Mr. Britton added, "there is nothing before the board at this time." Mr. Warner's motion to adopt the report vas then voted down, 62 to 55. Mr. Harper quest'oned whether Mr. War-ner's motion was on the adoption of the re-port, but Mr. Warner and the presiding officer declared that it was in that form. That being the case the entire matter was

Mr. Harper offered a resolution providing that the board should publish a monthly periodical that should be the organ of the board and should contain matter prepared under the supervision of the committee on

Functions of the Board.

Mr. Ross Perry spoke at length of the functions of the Board of Trade. He had been greatly interested in all commercial enterprises here, he said, but the functions of the board were and had always been much broader than commercial interests. Its name was really a misnomer, because its activities had not been confined to those that characterize a board of trade in other cities. It looks after all the interests of the District of Columbia. It works to secure parks and every form of improvement for the upbuilding of the city. Some time ago it was generally asknowledged that the functions of the Board of Trade were not purely commercial when the Business Men's Association was formed, and again, later, when the Jobbers and Shippers' As-sociation was organized. For sixteen years the board had stood on the ground that it was not a mere commercial body and that commercial interests were merely one of its functions. He did not want to see the association become a mere jobbers and shippers' association. For those reasons he proposed to vote against the resolution providing that the board publish a trade

The board, he said, practically declared that the committee on commerce and manufactures has no business in the board of trade. The com-

year. Its work was cast aside.

Mr. Perry had amended the resolution of Mr. Harper, providing that the proposed publication should be edited by the board of directors and not by the committee on commerce and manufacturers. The amend-ment was acceptable to Mr. Harper, who concluded by saying the board should feel ashamed of itself for the treatment accord-

Fox Hunt and Paper Chase.

Mr. Frederick L. Siddons asserted that it appeared that the board of trade had started out on a fox hunt and had wound up in a paper chase. The proud boast of the board has been that it had many interests to build up and one of the instrumentalities for so doing was its committee on commerce and manufactures. Now that committee had its work taken away from it. Mr. Ernest Wilkinson said it would be humiliating to the board to permit its committee on commerce and manufactures to take the matter of publication of the periodical in charge in the manner suggested.

Mr. C. C. Lancaster entered a protest against the action of the board in "turning" down" the report of the committee on commerce and manufactures.

"The Business Men's Association and the Jobbers and Shippers' Association were started," he declared, "because this board failed to do its duty, because the board has been dead for twenty years.

"Can you put your finger upon anything that the board has ever done?" Mr. Lancaster asked turning to the body of the members. "This association has never done anything that would employ 100 men. It should not be said that we are a mis-Mr. Lancaster, turning to the presiding officer, asked if the latter felt pride in being president of the Board of Trade.

Consider Presidency Great Honor. "I feel that to be president of this Board of Trade," Gen. Wilson said, "is the greatest honor that has ever been conferred upon me. The banquet hall rang with applause announced would be held the 28th instant.

Mr. John Weaver did not want the board to be placed before the boards of trade of the country as unwilling to put up $7,000 for commercial development.

Mr. Norman Galt declared that he believed every one would be willing to help in the work of industrial expansion.

Mr. Siddons said he believed the board had not understood the report, and for that reason had declined to approve it.

Mr. Warner complimented Secretary Harries and Assistant Secretary Shuster for their efficiency and hard work, and said the proposition to employ another secretary did not in the least manner reflect upon the the work of those officers of the board. It was simply in order to take up another branch of the work.

Work Organization Has Done. Mr. John Joy Edson spoke in regard to the work the board had done. He said he knew the older members understood what the activity of the board had been, but he did not want the younger men to be mislead by what had been said by some of the members as to the inactivity of of the board. He explained the peculiar character of the board, and said as there was no other city in the world situated exactly as is this city there is probably no other organization just like the Wash-ington Board of Trade. The board is to represent people who have representation in no other way. The people here cannot vote and have no form of government, and the board undertakes to fill their need of an active organization to look after all manner of local interests. Much of the best work of the board, he said, is never published, but it is always on the lookout of Dr. Hickling when prought of the temperature fact that in this locality the temperature provided in the bill from the time it leaves the dairy until it reaches the temperature provided in the bill from the time it leaves the dairy until it reaches the temperature provided by saying that the proper handling of milk requires artificial in a frozen state and in others it is required that a part of the milk is sold in a frozen state. In Boston for three years there has been in force a law similar to that proposed for this city. Mr. Harper declared, "this board is traveling under false colors. It is traveling to the proper standard.
